TO: Mayor and Board of Directors

FROM: Ray Gosack, City Administrator

SUBJECT: Employment Contract

Attached is a resolution confirming my appointment as city administrator and approving an employment contract. The contract was prepared and reviewed by me and Director Hutchings. The assistant city attorney has also reviewed the contract. Key provisions of the contract include:

- ▶ An at will employment concept. This is consistent with the city's personnel policies. The at will concept allows either party to end the employment relationship at any time without reason.
- ▶ An annual salary of $149,500. Benefits are detailed in sections 6, 7 & 8, and are the same as those provided to other senior management employees.
- ▶ A severance provision of four months' salary and health coverage benefits. This severance has been part of previous administrators' contracts.
- ▶ A provision for a formal performance review. The first review would occur in six months (July, 2011) and in December of each year thereafter.

I appreciate the board of directors' confidence in me, and will work diligently to help Fort Smith thrive, accomplish the board's goals, and lead the city staff.

AT WILL EMPLOYMENT AGREEMENT

This Employment Agreement made and entered into this 11th day of January, 2011 by and between Ray Gosack (hereinafter "Gosack") and the City of Fort Smith, Arkansas (hereinafter "the City"), acting by and through its Board of Directors (hereinafter "the Board"), as follows:

Term.

1. This Agreement shall remain in full force and effect from January 11, 2011 until terminated by City or Gosack as provided in this Agreement.

Duties.

2. The City and Gosack agree that Gosack shall become the City Administrator of the City effective January 4, 2011 and shall perform all the duties of a City Administrator as prescribed by Arkansas law, A.C.A. § 14-48-117 (1) through (12), other applicable state and federal statutes, City Ordinances, and such other lawful duties as the City may direct from time to time. He shall continue as City Administrator until his termination, resignation or death.

Salary.

3. As partial compensation, Gosack shall receive an annual salary beginning at $149,500.00. It is understood and agreed that this salary amount should be reviewed annually by the Board as part of a formal performance evaluation, and that it will be increased upon the Board's determination that Gosack's performance has been such as to warrant an increase and that Gosack has met goals provided to him by the City for the previous year.

Performance Evaluation.

4. City, acting through its Board of Directors, shall review Gosack's performance subject to a process, form, criteria, and format for the evaluation which shall be mutually agreed upon by City and Gosack. The process at a minimum shall include the opportunity for both parties to: (1) prepare a written evaluation, (2) meet with each other to discuss the evaluation, and (3) present a written summary of the evaluation results. The first review shall occur in July, 2011 and thereafter a review shall occur during the last regular board meeting of December of each year this Agreement is in effect.

Severance.

5. Upon termination of the employment relationship, whether by resignation, termination, or death, the City shall pay to Gosack (or his legal personal representative) severance pay equal to four (4) months of his then current salary. Vacation.

6. Gosack shall be entitled to twenty (20) days of annual vacation leave which leave shall accrue each year on Gosack's anniversary date of January 11th. Gosack's current vacation leave balance of 121.5 hours, which does not include the accrual to be made on January 11, 2011, shall remain in place. 8. The City shall supply Gosack with a vehicle of the City's choice and the City shall be responsible for maintenance thereon. Alternatively, at the option of Gosack, the City shall pay the sum of $450.00 per month to Gosack as vehicle allowance. Gosack shall be responsible for taxes, if any, that may be determined to be due on said car allowance. Use of Gosack's own vehicle for City business shall be for travel in the local

9. The employment provided for by this Agreement shall be Gosack's sole employment. Recognizing that certain teaching opportunities provide indirect benefits to the City and the community, Gosack may elect, subject to the Board's approval, to accept limited teaching opportunities with the understanding that such arrangements shall not constitute interference with nor a conflict of interest with his responsibilities under this Agreement.

Bonding.

10. City shall bear the full cost of any fidelity or other bonds required of Gosack under any law or ordinance.

At Will Employment.

11. Irrespective of the provisions contained in this Employment Agreement, the parties agree that this Agreement is for an indefinite period of time, does not create a guaranty of continued employment, and that Gosack's employment as City Administrator may be terminated by the City at any time for any reason. Similarly, Gosack may resign from his employment at any time and receive all of the benefits set forth herein due upon resignation without the necessity of a reason.

Indemnification.

12. The City agrees to defend Gosack, upon his request, against any tort claim or other legal action filed against him, whether groundless or not, arising out of the performance of his duties as City Administrator. Furthermore, the City agrees to hold harmless and indemnify Gosack, to the extent allowed by law, against any tort claim or other legal action filed against him arising out of the performance of his duties as City Administrator.

Entire Agreement

REPORT OF CONVENTION CENTER
AD HOC COMMITTEE
June 8, 2010

The City of Fort Smith board of directors created a convention center ad hoc committee on April 6, 2010 (authorizing resolution attached) to examine future financing for the continued operation of the Fort Smith Convention Center. This report provides background information about the funding issue, the options considered by the committee, and the committee's recommendations to the board of directors.

BACKGROUND

The Fort Smith Convention Center operated as a part of the City's General Fund prior to 2004. Convention center operating income is less than half of the center's operating costs. Prior to 2004, the city's General Fund subsidized this operating deficit.

In 2004, the City began using tourism turnback revenue from the State of Arkansas to finance the operations of the convention center and some capital improvement projects of the convention center. The tourism turnback revenue has been slightly less than $1.8 million per year. This revenue source ends on June 30, 2010.

The operating deficit of the convention center is approximately $1.1 million per year excluding any capital improvements. Capital maintenance funds should be provided to regularly fund major maintenance, replacement, and upgrades at the center.

With the looming convention center operating deficit facing the City, the board of directors created this committee to examine the feasibility of implementing a 1 percent prepared food tax to support the operation of the convention center. The committee was also tasked with examining the feasibility of conveying operation of the convention center to the Advertising and Promotion (A & P) Commission or to private operators. The prepared food tax can only be collected by the A & P Commission, and state law defines allowable expenditures of these funds.

The ad hoc committee, comprised of 7 members, met 6 times to gather information, identify and analyze options, and make recommendations. All meetings were open to the public and attended by the press.

OPTIONS

The committee requested and received a variety of operating and financial data about the operations of the convention center and the A & P Commission. A high level, general review of the information was conducted by the committee. The information, much of which is attached to this report, included:

- A history of the convention center and its expansion in 2000-2001
- Operating budgets for the convention center and the A & P Commission
- Staffing levels of both organizations
- Operating income generated by the convention center
- General Fund revenue, expenditure, and fund balance information
- Uses of state turnback funds
- Past uses of convention center operating income
- Utilization data of the convention center
- Sales and marketing activities
- Operating and financial comparisons of convention centers and funding sources in other cities, including other Arkansas cities that use a prepared food tax.
- Opportunities for generating additional revenue from convention center operations

The committee also reviewed and discussed:

- Information from past discussions by the board of directors about convention center funding and operations, and about funding for various quality of place projects
- The mechanics of how various revenue sources work
- The City's 5-year budget for street and drainage work financed by a 1 percent sales tax
- Legal considerations. The assistant city attorney was present for this discussion.
- Private operation of the convention center. Representatives of 2 local hotels participated in this discussion.

Staff from City administration, convention center, finance and the A & P Commission provided information for the committee.

Through the gathering of information, the committee identified various financing options and alternatives for the operation of the convention center. The financing options included:

- ▶ Do Nothing
- ▶ Prepared Food Tax
- ▶ Business License Fee
- ▶ Reallocation of Street & Drainage Sales Tax Revenue

The operating alternatives included:

- ▶ Contract with a private operator
- ▶ Provide more services in-house to generate additional income
- ▶ Contract the operation of the convention center to the Advertising and Promotion Commission

A brief discussion and the advantages and disadvantages of each alternative are identified in the attached table. This analysis helped form the reasoning for the committee's recommendations.

RECOMMENDATIONS

The committee makes the following recommendations by a vote of 7 in favor and none opposed.

1. The committee believes that the Do Nothing and the Business License Fee options are not viable. The committee concluded that the convention center is a valuable asset to the region, provides a positive and significant economic impact on the region, and that its operations should continue and expand.
2. A prepared food tax of 1 percent is the best alternative for assuring the continued operation of the Fort Smith Convention Center. This source is the most equitable method, is commonly used by other cities to support the operation of their convention centers and other tourism/entertainment venues (Fort Smith is the only city in Arkansas with a publicly-owned convention center that doesn't have a prepared food tax to support the convention center's operation), and won't negatively affect the provision of vital city services. In support of this recommendation, committee members noted that an estimated 50%-60% of this revenue would be paid by non-residents to help support a regional asset, the tax doesn't apply to grocery purchases, and that dining out may be considered as discretionary spending. Committee members noted further that allowable expenditures of the prepared food tax revenue are mandated by state law, and that the revenues are under the control of the A & P Commission.

3. Reallocation of 10% of the street and drainage sales tax is a distant alternative to the prepared food tax. The committee believes that the best policy is to not adjust the uses of this sales tax. Members were concerned that a reallocation could jeopardize future public approval of the tax in 2015. The committee also believes that good roads are important for curb appeal, for economic development and for quality of place.
4. The operation of the convention center should be merged with the A & P Commission. The committee further recommends that the goals and purposes of the convention center be defined, operating performance benchmarks be established, and the two operations be integrated in a way that maximizes the synergies of joint operation. A contract should be executed between the city and the A & P Commission that includes, among other things, these provisions for convention center operations, and should clearly define how the prepared food tax revenue will be expended. The 2 City board members who serve on the A & P Commission should monitor and at least quarterly report to the board of directors the convention center's operations and the progress towards achieving revenue increases and cost decreases.

Based on the opinions offered by city management and the committee's general, high level review of the city's General Fund finances, the committee recognizes the financial pressure the city's General Fund appears to be under. The committee could find no evidence that the General Fund budget can currently support additional significant programs such as the convention center operations without dramatic cuts in critical programs including police and fire department operations. The committee further concluded that the business license fee is not an appropriate mechanism for financing convention center operations, and recommends that the board of directors not consider this option.

The committee recommends that the entity which operates the convention center now and in the future undertake a review of the following to reduce the gap between operating income and expenses:

1. Convention center management and commission members should perform an extensive analysis of operating costs for the sole purpose of significantly reducing personnel and other operating expenses.
2. The convention center provide more services exclusively such as ticketing and pipe and drape in order to generate additional revenue. This should be independently examined and analyzed to further assure that there's an adequate payback on the investments needed to provide these services. Such investments should be made only if a proper payback can be reasonably expected.

3. There should be a more reliable method of verifying the accuracy of commissions paid to the convention center by caterers and others including possibly requiring, by contract, that convention center users report to the city or to the A & P Commission the gross amounts the users paid to caterers and other service providers.
4. Consider the possibility of contracting the convention center operation to a private entity. The committee recognized that this option might lower the operating deficit, but would likely not completely eliminate the deficit because the City would continue to be responsible for some costs including utilities, maintenance and capital expenditures. This option does have impacts which may be viewed as adverse, such as eliminating open catering and possibly affecting the rates paid by local nonprofit organizations.

If the board of directors determines to proceed with a referendum to use the prepared food tax, the committee encourages the board to undertake a vigorous and thorough public education effort. The committee recognizes that some restaurant owners and others may oppose the initiation of a prepared food tax, and that current economic conditions may complicate the passage of a tax. However, the committee believes that if citizens are provided information about the value of the convention center, how the center benefits citizens, and the options for financing its operations, voters will be more likely to support the use of a prepared food tax.

The committee does not make any recommendations regarding the other proposed uses for the prepared food tax revenue. The committee has limited its recommendations to those involving the convention center because that was the purpose of the resolution creating the committee.

CONCLUSION

The ad hoc committee believes that the Fort Smith Convention Center is an important component of the region's quality of place and generates a significant positive economic impact for the region, including the direct or indirect support of a number of jobs within the region. A public investment to support the continued operation of the convention center assures the community of having a viable venue source for arts and entertainment performances and for attracting statewide and regional events and conventions to Fort Smith. The convention center enhances the prosperity of the region. An investment in its continued operation should provide a significant rate of return for the region.

The committee members appreciate all of the timely support, cooperation and information received during this process from the City management, convention center and A & P Commission staffs.

Convention Center Ad Hoc Committee,

Note 1: The source for the 2001 through 2008 data is from the CAFR for each applicable year. Please note that the Convention Center Fund was not established until 2003. The information included for 2001 and 2002 was excerpted from the 1997 Sales and Use Tax Bond Fund financial statements included in the 2001 and 2002 CAFRs. This is the treatment for the transfer of the funds to pay debt service if the funds had been transferred each year from a special revenue fund, i.e., the Convention Center Fund, to the debt service fund, i.e., the 1997 Sales and Use Tax Bond Fund. The actual treatment for the tourism turnback revenue received in 2001 and 2002 was to deposit the funds directly into the debt service fund as an intergovernmental revenue. The principal and interest payments reported for 2001 totaled $9,220,000 and $1,391,728, respectively, and the principal and interest payments reported for 2002 totaled $8,165,000 and $937,122, respectively.

Note 2: The source for the 2009 numbers is the CAFR draft that is under examination now and for the 2010 estimate is the 2010 budget.

Note 3: The capital amounts reflect those assets that were capitalized by the City for each year. If the expenditure was less than $5,000 per unit or if the expenditure was for an asset not owned by the City, e.g., parking lot expenditure of $200,000 during 2007 for the County Courthouse, then those expenditures are presented as operating costs.

Note 4: The Convention Center Fund is a special revenue fund that is used to account for the state tourism turnback received by the City to be used for the operations and capital asset acquisition for the convention center. The turnback is restricted for tourism related expenditures.

REGARDING: Operating Procedures—Hot Springs/Pine Bluff/Fort Smith

You will recall that A & P Chairman Mayor Ray Baker established a Task Force last August to develop information in order to explore the possibility of the A & P assuming operation of the Fort Smith Convention Center. The recommendations of that Task Force (delivered to the City Directors in January of this year), were reached after consideration of an in depth study of both the Convention & Visitor Bureau and Convention Center operations in Hot Springs, Pine Bluff and Fort Smith.

At your request for use by the current Ad Hoc Committee, is a summary of the primary findings of the research referenced above. Additional results and numerous attachments can be made available at request of the Committee.

The Advertising and Promotion Commission executives from both of these destinations have indicated that they would be happy to attend any future meeting in Fort Smith to provide further guidance and answer any questions the Committee members might have.

I hope these findings are useful as the Ad Hoc Committee continues their work and I would be happy to arrange for visits by my colleagues.

Thank you.
